World Book Day: Thursday 3 March 2022

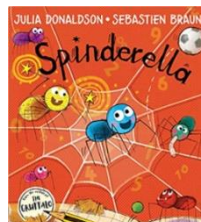

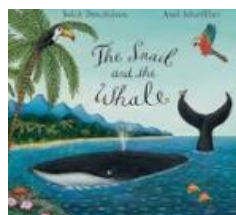

To celebrate reading, the children will be bringing home a book voucher which we hope they will enjoy putting towards the purchase of an exciting book to share and read.

When you get your book token, all you need to do is to take it to your local bookseller and swap it for a FREE World Book Day book. The tokens are valid from 17th February to 27th March 2022

Book Fortnight

Next half-term both schools will be spending two weeks exploring books by the same author. The focus will be Julia Donaldson. During the week the children will take part in all sorts of exciting activities linked to the books that have been chosen for their class. The children in Eagles and Swallows will be linking this to their science fiction writing. On World Book Day, 3rd March, we would love the children to come in dressed as their favourite character from any Julia Donaldson book.

I am sure we will see a few Gruffalos amongst the children! Here are a few examples of her books but there are many more to choose from. If you are struggling to find a character please speak to your child's class teacher.

Yours sincerely
